unauthenticated copy of the endorsement granted to them by the Amildar communicating to them the order of the Rev Comr which is to the effect that remission can not be granted simply because the bund of the tank in question gave way. In the present memorial the petitioners represent that it is not the bund of the tank that has breached but that the Wt sluice is out of order. They therefore pray that either the sluice of the said tank be repaired & water made available for irrigating their lands or that remission of wet assessment be granted.

Apparently the land the remission the assessment of which is sought, belongs to the Sri Bhamarajeswara temple at Bhamarajnagar and the claim for remission and the question of the restoration of the tank and its future maintenance have been finally dealt with in last Order No 562-4 dt 1st May 1904. There is nothing in the order limiting the remission granted to the year of the order and future years. The order itself states that the tank breached soon after it was restored (1898) and thus the ryots are justified in claiming only remission for

I would suggest that, under the circumstances reported, and in supersession of the views recorded in official Memorandum No. 8609 dated 28th June 1904 (copy herewith forwarded for ready reference), the ryots should be granted a remission of the difference between dry and wet crop rates on 19 acres and 35 guntas of land reported to have been cultivated with dry crops only.

No. 8415 Office of the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore,

Dated Bangalore, 29th April 1905.

Official Memorandum

Subject

Letter No. 521 dated 1st February 1905 from the Deputy Commissioner of the Mysore District submitting a further report with records giving a history of the Ummathoor Tank in the Chamarajnagar Taluk, as called for in the Revenue Commissioner's Official Memorandum No. 8609 dated 28th June 1904 passing orders on the petitions of Sidda Naick and others of the Inam village of Ummathoor praying for remission of wet assessment on their lands, which could not be irrigated as the first sluice of their village tank was out of repair for the last 5 or 6 years.

This report is disappointing as the papers do not show that the Divisional Assistant Commissioner has devoted any personal attention and taken any personal interest in the preparation of the history of the Tank work which was desired.

2. The only useful paper in the file sent up is the report of the Patel and Shanbogue, which shows that more than twenty thousand Rupees spent on the tank in 1891-92 were of little avail by the breach in 1895-96. But how this happened and what are the lessons of experience, local officers have not taken pains to ascertain and report. A statement received from the Chief Engineer attributes the disaster to neglect on the part of the ryots and laxity of supervision on the part of the local revenue officers. And the Revenue Commissioner has a right to expect to find in the reports of Revenue officers some light on this indictment. A copy of the D.P.W. Memorandum referred to will be furnished to the Deputy Commissioner.

3. The Amildar and the Assistant Commissioner now report that a fresh estimate for ₹16059/- is on hand. They evidently disapprove of it but take no pains to explain what they find defective and what corrections they wish to be adopted. It is

It is only stated in vague terms that " the ryots submit that the present repairs will not be of much use to them unless the Revenue authorities make a thorough inspection before it becomes too late to alter the sanctioned work ". The Deputy Commissionor should call upon the Divisional Assistant Commissioner to furnish a further and fuller report. Was not the estimate submitted to the Deputy Commissioner for his approval and countersignature ?

Petition/Registered Nos. 4461, 5150 and 5735 dated respectively 15th January 1904, 12th March 1904 and 13th April 1904 from Sirda Naik and others of Ummathoor village, stating that the first sluice of the tank of Ummathoor village in the Chamarajnagar Taluk has been out of repair for the last five or six years and that in consequence their lands could not be irrigated and praying for remission of wet assessment on their lands

(2) Letter No. 596 dated 4th June 1904 from the Deputy Commissioner of the Mysore District reporting on the above petitions.

[illegible]

The petitioners are the owners of lands situated in the southern portion of the area irrigated by the north sluice of the Ummathoor tank. They urge that as the sluice is in disorder their lands are not being irrigated for the last five or six years and claimremission of wet assessment. The Amildar of the Chamarajnagar Taluk, after personal inspection, reports that 15 survey Nos. measuring 19 acres and 35 guntas and assessed at ₹103-12-0 have been deprived of their supply of water and that in consequence only dry crops are being raised on all of them except one or two fields which are left uncultivated. He further reports that the masonry work of the sluice as well as the reser voir into which water was let from the sluice, were washed away 5 or 6 years ago, that as the channel which irrigated petitioner's lands had its source at the top of the said reservoir, water could flow into it only when the reservoir was full and as the latter had been washed away, water now flows at a level 4 feet below the level of the supply channel.

2. It is thus evident that this is not a case of breach of a tank under which the remissions of half the wet assess and 13-12-1897 respectively. The work was completed about August 1897 and the Deputy Commissioner requested to take charge of the tank for upkeep and maintenance at about the same time. When the Amildar was directed to take charge of the Tank he reported in September 1897 that no turfing work had been done to the front and rear slopes of the bund, that there were cracks on the top of the bund and on the slopes, that the sluice tunnel was completely out of order and that the tank was therefore in danger. The question of rectifying these defects was under correspondence between this office and that of the Executive Engineer.

3. In para 7 of Rev. S. Commachala, Mandaliar's memo enclosed in the file he says that the estimate for turfing the slopes and gravelling the top of the bund was sanctioned in January 1898, but that the work could not be carried out as the slopes were found to be much covered out owing to the failure and neglect on the part of the Ryots in not having carried out any maintenance work since its completion and that consequently another estimate for Rs: 124/- was sanctioned in F

1899 for forming the slopes. This is an astounding statement not warranted by facts. The Tank was never taken charge of by the Revenue Department owing to the defects discovered as stated above. The Executive Engineer himself admits that the turfing and the gravelling portion of the work were not taken up till January 1898. The interval between the date of the completion of the work as reported by the P.W. Authorities and the date on which the Executive Engineer found the slopes to have been scoured out is only five months and it is simply surprising that the work which was completed so recently at a large outlay by a professional agency should have deteriorated to the extent complained of within this short space of time, if really substantial work had been turned out.

4. Again in para 8 of the P.W. Memorandum it is stated that the bund and the weir were breached on the 14th November 1898 by the heavy rains. From the Builder's report it is clear that the bund did not at all breach, but it was the waste weir that was almost completely washed away. The then Builder who inspected the Tank personally in November 1898, perhaps immediately after after the occurrence of the damage, reported that the newly constructed stone-apron had been washed away to the extent of 210 feet, that the body wall built of brick and chunam had also been washed away to the extent of 76 feet, that there was a crevice of 86 feet below the foundation of the body wall that the stone revetment had crumbled down to an extent of about 43 feet in length in the newly constructed bund and that there were other damages in the 59th, 61st 62nd and 63rd grade. All these enormous damages were due to this tank which was constructed only 14 months prior to the incident and the D. P. W. attributed these disastrous consequences to the neglect on the part of the ryots to do the maintenance work and to the Revenue Department not taking proper care of it. If the bund had breached, there was some justification for the charge, but it was unfortunately the waste-weir, the apron and the body wall that were washed away and the stone revetment that bulged out. Under these circumstances it is a question for consideration as to how far the Revenue Department and the ryots are responsible for this damage. If the foundation for the waste-waste-weir had been laid on hard soil and if the work had been satisfactorily executed and properly supervised the small quantity of 5 1/2 inches of rain, distributed over six rainy days prior to the breach of the tank would not have possibly damaged the tank to the extent reported.

The whole history of this tank seems to have been brought to the notice of Government in the Muzarai Report for the Government order P. 4049-57 Agri: 730-94 dated 1-5-1905 have noted the several irregularities of the P. W. D. in the execution of this tank. A copy of the above Government order is also enclosed for ready reference.

Subsequently three or four estimates have been sanctioned by Government aggregating Rs: 24000/- and odd and the work is now reported to be approaching completion. But even this does not appear to restore the tank into a condition of perfect safety, for it is stated that the present estimate does not provide for re-doing the revetment which has slid here and there.

As regards the grievance of the ryots holding lands under this tank the Government in their proceedings P. 562-4 Revenue dated 10th August 1904, have sanctioned the remission of half the wet assessment till the tank is restored and becomes available for cultivation.

Enclosure No. 1 file of P.P.

His memo No. 2183, dated 10 May 1905, calling for further report on the Tumkur Tank in the Channapatna Taluk.

Has the honor to submit the records received with his memo No. 2183, dated 12th May, 1905, together with the Amildar's report No. 45, dated 25th July 1905. From the records it will be found that the history of the tank is as follows:-

On the 21st August 1897, the Deputy Commissioner of Mysore sent an order to the effect that the Tumkur Tank might be taken charge of by the Revenue Department if the Tank works had been satisfactorily completed, as stated stated in the Executive Engineers No. 3059-733, 1897 and that otherwise the depots might be ready to this year. Krishnappa, the then Amildar-Kajanur Taluka reported in his No. 22, dated 29-8-1897, that no turfing works had been done - front or to the rear slope of the bund, that crack found on the top of the bund and both the stop sluice tunnel would not properly discharge the through it and that the bank was, therefore, in

A year more again, the Deputy Commissioner in his memorandum No. 143, dated 5-9-98, sent a similar whereupon the Amildar personally inspected and addressed No. 38 on 16-11-98, stating that the apron newly constructed had been washed away to the extent of 210 feet, that the body wall built of brick chunam had also been washed away to about in length, that there was a crevice of 8 feet the foundations of the body wall, that the above earth had crumbled down to an extent of 243 feet in length in the newly constructed bund that there were heavy damages in the 59th, 61st, 62nd 63rd grades also. It may be here mentioned that to Deputy Commissioner's No. 124, dated 29-4-98, in the Department, forming a reference to the Amildar similar to his said previous No., the letter submitted No. 152, 8-6-98, repeating the same statement.

Thus it will be seen that the bank had not been taken charge of by the Revenue officers ever since its breach, though the P.W.D. memorandum has it in its 6th para, while so, it is difficult to understand how either the ryots or the Revenue Department could be charged with any neglect or failure to such any maintenance work as is stated in the 7th and 8th paras of the P.W.D. memorandum. It has to pointed out here that there was no breach of the bund of in 1898 as the Amildar Shanbhag has given a note (vide page 23 in the file) to the effect, though there was displacement of the revetment stones, for which the P.W.D. and their contractor are of course responsible. There was also in that year a washing away of the waste-weir apron. What has been said is, it is believed, sufficient to show that the bunds were not handed over to the Revenue Department by the P.W.D after the alleged completion of the work, and that the ryots are not, in any way, to blame in the matter. It is also important to note that in a bund work alleged to have been completed by June 1897 as mentioned in para 6 of the P.W.D. memorandum, a heavy rainfalling a year and a half hence should have produced so much damage and that for want of maintenance alleged to have been neglected by the ryots in such a short time.

On the Revenue Commissioner's official memorandum under reply remind here in May 1905, marked a personal attention to be paid to the history of this bund, this was laid over till the bund was personally inspected during that year's Jamabandi season, but it so happened that the then Deputy Commissioner himself conducted that year's Jamabandi of that Taluk and the undersigned was prevented by other multifarious and important duties from going to that place earlier. Opportunity was therefore taken this year during the Jamabandi to go over the whole of the bund and the feeder channel up to the training bund on the 22nd ultimo. It is submitted that under these circumstances, this unavoidable delay will be taken as a sufficient excuse for not submitting the history earlier.

Government Proceedings No. 562-4 dated 3rd August 1904 sanctioning the project for Rs 16059/- for repairing the Inam tumaltur tank belonging to the Sri Chamarajeswara-swami temple at Chamarajanagar

Petitions Nos 1700 and 2467 dated 28th October and 25th December 1904 respectively, from Basava Gowda and some other ryots of tumaltur complaining against the proposed diversion of the feeder channel to their village tank.

Read

Correspondence ending with Docket No. 1294 dated 22nd February 1905 from the Chief Engineer of Mysore reporting on the above.

Order thereon No. 4049-51 dated Bangalore, Aug: F 30-94 10th May 1905.

The chief complaint of the petitioners is that if the tank is repaired according to the sanctioned project the supply to the tank would be diminished. They therefore pray that the breached new weir be restored instead of constructing an anicut with a regulator across the big stream and opening out a feeder therefrom to the tank. With reference to the above the Chief Engineer reports that the Superintending Engineer inspected the tank on the 13th January 1905 that the restoration of the breached weir as prayed for by the ryots is not possible as the site is quite unconnected for the purpose; that there will be no reduction whatever in the capacity of the bank as alleged if works are carried out according to the sanctioned project; and that there is no truth in the allegations made by the petitioners. In these circumstances the Government decline to reconsider the project recently sanctioned, which was, after due consideration, decided upon in the best interests of the ryots. The petitioners will be informed accordingly

The other point noted in the Chief Engineer's report is that the ryots have done nothing in the way of maintaining the bund since it was restored in 1896-97; that the whole of the bund has badly silted and deep pools formed in the rear slope and that the cost of earth work and turfing required to bring the bund to its original formation will be Rs: 3817 as per estimate now submitted. The collector's orders as to whether this work should be done by the ryots or by the P. W. Department and states further that if the bund is allowed to deteriorate any longer, it will certainly breach. He points out that this breach will cause considerable damage to the bund and necessitate the restoration of the breach. It cannot therefore be said that the bank breaches on account of the ryots neglecting to maintain it. On the contrary it is due to bad work and the ryots cannot be expected to maintain the bund of a breached bank. Any one concerned with this bank work cannot escape the discredit following bad execution. The project for the present reconstruction must also include the earth-work.

The

The framer of the estimate cannot be accused of blame for not including the earth work in it and asking for orders about the source of the funds required. It is such omissions and the execution of badly prepared designs that cause annoyance to Railways. If the work as per estimate includ-ed any additional Earth work to the bund as now brought to notice had been carried out, the result would have been disastrous to the bund as the catchment and the source of supply have been greatly increased. The P.W.D officer responsible is liable to be censured unless he has an explanation to offer. The file on this subject will be forwarded to the Chief Engineer for needful action and return.
